Pahokee Triumphs Over Belle Glade For Suncoast Title

Rosenberg Scores All Four Touchdowns For Conference Winners

By BILL NICHOLSON
Pahokee's Blue Devils put the clincher on their 1954 Suncoast Conference title bid last night as they downed the luckless Belle Glade Rams 26-12 before an overflow crowd of 3,500 fans at LaRi Field in Pahokee.

In addition to the football championship, Pahokee won the Bill Young Memorial Trophy for another season. The series now stands at six victories each for possession of the cup.

Hal Rosenberg, a jet-propelled halfback, scampered to pay territory in each quarter, scoring all four of Pahokee's touchdowns.

Belle Glade's Walter Mills finished his high school career on the gridiron in style as he starred on both offense and defense for the Golden Rams. Mills was the first star of the game, scoring 15 yards for the first rally. Rosenberg scored from the eleven on a run around left end and George Mills carried over the extra point. The quarter ended after Mills was punted to the Pahokee two.

Five plays later Rosenberg sped 77 yards to pay territory on a double reverse. Don Waddell ran the ball over for the extra point.

Late in the second quarter Mills fumbled on fourth down and the Rams capitalizing on the mistake, scored two plays later as Walt Mills scored from the six. The plunge for the extra point was short, and the half ended with Pahokee (Continued on page four)

Prof. H. L. Spears was speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting Wednesday and presented an interesting report on "Agriculture of the Glades". In a reminiscent mood, Professor Spears recalled the many happenings and developments in the Glades from 1905 to the present time.

He stated that Palm Beach had risen to the point of producing more vegetables than the next three largest producing counties of the state combined, with a total acreage of more than 8,000 one year. Beef cattle production has grown to such an extent that Palm Beach county is now one of the leading producers in the state. In conclusion Prof. Spears made some startling predictions for the next ten years.

Local Girl Goes To 4-H Congress

Miss Jeanette Waddell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Q. Waddell will represent Palm Beach County in the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 27-Dec. 2.

A senior at the Belle Glade High School, Jeanette has been a member of 4-H for six years and has an outstanding record in 4-H club work, winning the county 4-H Clothing Achievement last year, and the State Clothing Achievement for 1954.

She left with 9 other girls and 10 boys as the Florida delegation, from Jacksonville last night. Each of the 20 members of the delegation will represent for 30 or 40 hours outstanding records for the year 1954 in some division of 4-H in their respective counties and home demonstration agents. The group will be accompanied by Miss Emily King, state girls club agent, and other assistant girls club agents, Grant Godwin, Earl Kelly and R. T. Clay.

Previously shipments by press were received and dispatched from here on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays during the summer months. The new schedule is daily except Saturdays and Sundays.

The local Chamber of Commerce had requested the stepped-up schedule through the Jacksonville office of the express company.

Lytal Makes Plea For Observance Of Safe Driving Day

Issuing an appeal to all residents of Palm Beach County to prevent traffic accidents on Safe Driving Day, December 15, Lake Lytal, chairman of the county commission, said the challenge of highway safety is one that must be met on rural roads as well as urban highways. Roads outside the incorporated limits of cities and villages may be the most dangerous where the success of S-D Day is decided, Lytal said.

The commission Monday adopted a proclamation which set December 15 as S-D Day in the county and urged motorists to take every precaution on that day and every other day to avoid accidents on the highway.

S-D Day, which is being sponsored by President Eisenhower's Action Committee for Traffic Safety in cooperation with public officials and numerous national organizations, has as its objective the elimination of all traffic accidents for December 15. Its purpose is to demonstrate that the solution to the traffic problem is within the grasp of any community which its citizens are willing to accept their responsibilities as drivers and pedestrians.

Motorists and pedestrians in Palm Beach County can assure the success of S-D Day locally by doing these three things:

First, observe the letter and spirit of all traffic regulations. Second, be courteous to every driver and pedestrian - practice good sportsmanship. Third, give full attention to driving and walking.

In other words, drive and walk as they would have all others drive and walk.

New Physician To Start Practice Here

Dr. H. W. Snodgrass, physician and surgeon, plans to open an office in Belle Glade in the near future for the general practice of medicine and surgery in the community.

A native Virginian, Dr. Snodgrass is a graduate of Richmond Medical School and has special training in general surgery. (Continued on Page Four)

Postal Department's Bulk Mailing Rule Makes Pack Mule Of Postmen, "Occupants" "Bootholders" Of Patrons

By ROUSSELL KAY
Editorial Director, Florida News Service

If you see something staggering down the street that looks like a prospector's pack burro, don't be alarmed - it's probably only your postman.

There was a time when your mail carrier only carried mail that was addressed to somebody. If a person wanted to communicate with you by mail they had to know your name and your address.

Now, thanks to a silly ruling of the Postmaster General, anybody can send anybody anywhere all the circulars, letters, folders or mailing pieces they want by simply addressing it to "Occupant" or "Boothholder". It would be bad enough if the postman delivered these pieces to the wrong address, but believe it or not, the Post Office handles it at the ridiculous rate of 14¢ a pound. It takes a lot of circulars or doggers

City Manager 'Declines' Commissioners' Invitation To Submit Resignation

Wesleyan Prexy Holds Rotarian's Rapt Attention

Dr. B. Joseph Martin, president of Wesleyan College, was guest speaker at the Belle Glade Rotary Club Friday at their weekly luncheon meeting. Dr. Martin was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Royal of Belle Glade for several days last week.

Speaking to the parents of three Belle Glade girls who are students at Wesleyan, Dr. Martin said:

Your girls are doing excellent work.

Speaking of his impression of the Glades, the Wesleyan prexy said:

I've never seen so many cows per acre as between here and West Palm Beach.

With a Cajun twangy speech fluently free by an educated and adept mind that works overtime to the betterment of humanity, and specifically for the girls from many lands who attend his beloved Wesleyan College Dr. Martin, the president of the school's President, held Rotarians in rapt attention Friday for his allotted time.

Declaring that a Trinity composed of the home, the church and the school is the basis of progress in a community, a country, a state, a nation, and the world, the eloquent orator impressed his audience with the reverence of his thoughts and the substance of his planning and the effectiveness of his actions, girls about whom their friend, Madam Chiang Chi Seck called him sometime ago, the Doctor believes that teaching of the Christian religion and the American way of life is more effective when the young ladies return home on an equal amount spent on missionaries.

The President of the School pleased Glades parents when he told of the very excellent work being done by three girls from Belle Glade.

Wesleyan College gained new friends because its president deeply impressed every one of the 25 members of the school's board of trustees with his own practical every-day religious convictions and his leadership in his school's educational endeavors.

Although Wesleyan is a Methodist women's college, Dr. Martin pointed out that 20 denominations are represented in the student body. He also said that 40% of the freshman class this year were Florida girls.

He believed that our children do a pretty good job as pedestrians, especially on our sidewalks, and that we should do more to support it with appropriate educational activities. The values of well planned activities in the schools will extend far beyond the 24 hours of S-D Day, and will help our State to conserve its richest children devotes our children and youth.

The Easy Way

Benny Weeks, Belle Glade's cow pasture pilot and Big Cypress hunter, reports a 7-point buck, bagged on the opening day of hunting season the easy way.

Benny says he has a very comfortable platform built between two cypress trees on a good deer stand. He is equipped with a ash ray, magazine rack and other comforts of home, according to Benny. All he has to do is recline on his special platform until some hunter runs the game under his tree and then he shoots him from his lofty perch. It's hard to believe.

State Superintendent Of Schools Urges Cooperation In "S-D Day"

TALLAHASSEE—"S-D Day"—"Safe Driving Day"—was hailed today by Thomas D. Bailey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, as "a real opportunity for our schools to show that youth can contribute to community traffic safety."

"S-D Day" is Wednesday, December 15th. It is sponsored by the President's Action Committee for Traffic Safety in cooperation with all public officials and various national organizations interested in traffic accident prevention, as a demonstration that traffic accidents can be eliminated if people in every community are willing to make the effort.

Superintendent Bailey said: "I believe that our children do a pretty good job as pedestrians, especially on our sidewalks, and that we should do more to support it with appropriate educational activities. The values of well planned activities in the schools will extend far beyond the 24 hours of S-D Day, and will help our State to conserve its richest children devotes our children and youth."

'Unofficial' Meet Held Following Regular Session

3-to-2 Majority Apparently Favors Ouster Of Carle

City Manager Tom Carle, at an "unofficial discussion" held in his office following the regular council meeting last Tuesday night, "declined" and invitation of city commissioners to tender his resignation.

The city manager, in a statement to the press following the "unofficial discussion," said that no specific charges were voiced by the city fathers. They said they were asking him to resign for the good of the city," according to Carle. The mayor and all commissioners, acting collectively and individually for a statement, declined to comment on the "unofficial" time. The press was not admitted to the meeting, which was held behind closed doors.

Carle said he told the commissioners he would resign if specific charges which could be substantiated were made against him. He said he felt that "for the good of the city" was vague and insufficient city manager's resignation. He was offered one month's salary if the resignation was tendered to be effective immediately, he said.

Rumors of friction in the city government have been rampant for some time and the "unofficial" meeting had been set for 7:15 Tuesday night prior to the commission meeting scheduled for 8:00. However, all of the commissioners did not show up in an appearance at the appointed time. The resignation was postponed until after the regularly scheduled meeting was adjourned. The city manager had invited the press to attend the early meeting to witness his "execution," as he put it.

In conversation with some of the commissioners following the "discussion" it appeared that a majority of 3-to-2 favored the ouster of Carle. The majority of the commissioners are believed to constitute the minority with Mayor Rabin and Commissioner Carl and Carlton favoring the removal of Carle.

The next move now appears to be up to the commission. Unless a special session is called today, there will not be an action for official action until December 8 at the next regular meeting.

The city manager suggested that the commission hold public hearings to allow the alleged grievances against him. He was informed that they were not required to hold a hearing and that they were empowered to take the necessary action for his removal without seeking public opinion. Carle said he would resign.

Ironically, a report of the annual city audit dated Nov. 10, 1954, was made at the commission meeting Tuesday night by William B. Rhodes, certified public accountant. He made several recommendations as to minor changes in the internal control and commended the city on their efficient financial operation during the past year. He particularly praised the establishment of the central cash system which solidates receipts from various departments. This was a Carle initiated project it is said.

Mrs. Bill Bailey and Mrs. B. T. Webster spent the weekend visiting Miss Jane Webster, student at Massey Business College in Jacksonville.

Outdoor Florida

"How to enjoy the Florida outdoors right in your own back yard!" — that's the theme of today's guest column by Mrs. Leslie Harper Purcell, 734 McDaniel St., Lakeland. This manuscript is one of the most interesting ever contributed to "Outdoor Florida," so without more ado let's present it to readers.

"It is not a very spacious place — about 40 feet by 40 feet, but it's part of a corner lot which suggests a much larger space than it is. I do believe that the yellow and red hibiscus plants, as they flaunt their gay coloring from the space between the sidewalk and the busy street, add to the illusion of space.

"As I sit in my back yard, pencil and paper in hand I am shielded from the eyes of the passing pedestrian by a tall thatch of banana trees just within the sidewalk area, and these banana trees are a goodly present to my father, who year after year nursed his banana trees at the home of his front porch near Jackson, Mississippi. He had 'green thumb' and a warm heart for all things living and his banana trees were the talk of the community. Early in the fall he would get out his banana leaves as my mother called it, this long box-like contraption that he had fashioned himself. After watering and fertilizing the banana plants, he would painstakingly lift this wooden casing down over them, easing the leaves in, as gently as another putting her baby to sleep. To get these plants safe for the Mississippi winter took a full day's work, but by the time the plants were rewarded when he could occasionally cut a bunch of bananas to share with the neighbors, or to share with them. My son-in-law reminds me that banana plants are 'heavy feeders' and that I should get rid of them to give the myrtle, the pentas, the gladioli, the dwarf chrysanthemums a better chance. But the banana trees must stay!"

Outdoor Florida

By HERB MOSHER

"How to enjoy the Florida outdoors right in your own back yard!" — that's the theme of today's guest column by Mrs. Leslie Harper Purcell, 734 McDaniel St., Lakeland. This manuscript is one of the most interesting ever contributed to "Outdoor Florida," so without more ado let's present it to readers.

"It is not a very spacious place — about 40 feet by 40 feet, but it's part of a corner lot which suggests a much larger space than it is. I do believe that the yellow and red hibiscus plants, as they flaunt their gay coloring from the space between the sidewalk and the busy street, add to the illusion of space.

"As I sit in my back yard, pencil and paper in hand I am shielded from the eyes of the passing pedestrian by a tall thatch of banana trees just within the sidewalk area, and these banana trees are a goodly present to my father, who year after year nursed his banana trees at the home of his front porch near Jackson, Mississippi. He had 'green thumb' and a warm heart for all things living and his banana trees were the talk of the community. Early in the fall he would get out his banana leaves as my mother called it, this long box-like contraption that he had fashioned himself. After watering and fertilizing the banana plants, he would painstakingly lift this wooden casing down over them, easing the leaves in, as gently as another putting her baby to sleep. To get these plants safe for the Mississippi winter took a full day's work, but by the time the plants were rewarded when he could occasionally cut a bunch of bananas to share with the neighbors, or to share with them. My son-in-law reminds me that banana plants are 'heavy feeders' and that I should get rid of them to give the myrtle, the pentas, the gladioli, the dwarf chrysanthemums a better chance. But the banana trees must stay!"

U. S. Dept. Says New Chain Letter Scheme Is Illegal

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield warned today against participation in the latest variation of the chain letter scheme, pointing out that it is a violation of both postal lottery and fraud laws.

The scheme, which promises a "sure fire" profit of $10,240.00 "in a few days" for a $10.00 investment, was labeled "illegal" by the Postmaster General.

"The public may believe that this latest chain scheme does not involve any violation of postal laws because the letters or 'charts' are sold person to person and do not go through the mail," the Postmaster General Summerfield said. "The money does not go through the mail, however, and the scheme, therefore, violates postal laws."

Under the plan, the letters or "charts" are sold for $5 each and the buyer is required to mail another $5 to the name on the top of an eleven name list. The top name is then removed from the list and the new participant's name is placed at the bottom of the list.

The new participant then makes two copies of the letter and sells it to two other people.

Florida Man Is Training Likely Horse For Derby

MIAMI, (FNS) — A Jacksonville boy who has lived most of his life in Miami has been making most of the major headlines in horse racing in recent weeks.

He's Sherrill W. Ward, 42, one of the youngest looking grandfathers you ever saw, who has developed and trained the ace two-year old race horse, Summer Tan, for his owner, Mrs. Russell A. Firestone.

Summer Tan is now being pointed for the $100,000 Flamingo at Hialeah after annexing the recent Garden State Stakes, world's richest horse race worth $151,085 to the winner.

Summer Tan scored by nine lengths over 14 juvenile rivals in that race to climax his two-year old season as the best juvenile of the year along with trainer, Stud's Nashua. He is 1954's leading money-winning two-year old.

First noticed Summer Tan's potential last winter at Hialeah where he had the colt for his first introduction to the track life. He put the colt into an overnight race at the flamingo track, but, as Ward says "It was new to him and he came down the stretch staring at everyone in the grandstand."

Ward put blinkers on Summer Tan for his next race and he won by nine lengths and has been improving and moving up in class since. A son of 1954's leading sire of race horse, Hall of Fame, he is being mentioned as the winter book favorite for next spring's Kentucky Derby.

All of which is highly satisfactory to Ward, who has been sending horses to the races since he graduated from Miami Edison High School at the age of 18. Son of a famous Kentucky trainer and a died-in-the-wool horseman of the Old Kentucky school, Ward's birth in Florida was something of a mistake.

His family was racing horses at old Monticello Park in Jacksonville in 1911, when the store decided to visit them. The Wards returned to Florida later for his father's health and Sherrill became a four-letter athlete at Edison under Coach Ernie Seiler, better known now as the proprietor of the New Year's Orange Bowl game.

Sherrill added his first winner at retired Keweenaw Park in Jacksonville and trained a public stable successfully up until World War II when he served with the Cavalry. He returned to civilian life to take over the Firestone horses, a connection he has held since.

Jaycees To Sponsor Christmas Project At Osceola Center

At the regular dinner meeting Thursday night at the Municipal Country Club, the Jaycees decided to sponsor a Christmas program for the children at Osceola Center.

President C. L. Todd appointed a committee to work on the Christmas lighting program, assisting the city in decorating the main street with lights. The committee is composed of Larry Royal and Clarence Thrope, co-chairman, and Gene Ellis, Walter Ashley and Richard Harris assisting. They will place arches with Merry Christmas signs and lights at the main entrances to the city.

The group decided to assist the Jay-Cette in their dance to be held on December 18, and that organization will in turn help them with donations on tickets for the television set, deep fryer and coffee maker, which will be given away at a drawing at Barney's Appliance on W. Avenue A, December 18.

Announcement was made that 18 were out for football practice for the game which the Jaycees are sponsoring on December 10, between Belle Glade and Clewiston Alumni.

Barnes Smith in charge of the program introduced the Uphugrove Quartet, who received quite an ovation from the group.

Cigarette Tax For September $3,128.53

The City of Belle Glade received $3,128.53 from cigarette taxes during the month of September, according to A. E. McKinney, Jr., director of the State Beverage Department, which collects the tax.

Clewiston received $1,776.49; South Bay received $482.56; Pahokee, $1,434.98.

The total collected from the state amounted to $1,550,402.70.

One Of Florida's Finest Food Fishes Declining In Sales

Floridians may be letting a good thing get away from them, says Dr. C. P. Idyll, research associate at the Marine Laboratory of the University of Miami.

"Marketing research by the Marine Laboratory reveals that 90 percent of the catch of Florida is sold outside the state," Dr. Idyll says. "Most of the remaining 10 percent is sold in the northern part of the state."

"Judging from these statistics it would seem that the people in this area, and in Georgia, Tennessee and the Carolinas, know more about fish than south Floridians," Dr. Idyll continues. "The mullet, it is generally agreed amongst connoisseurs, is one of the finest food fishes."

The reason for the lack of acceptance of mullet and other fine southern fishes in parts of Florida, and the reason it is difficult to market them in this state, is the lack of a tax with $332,536 going to the general revenue fund and the remainder $121,869.29 distributed to eligible incorporated municipalities.

state, form the basic problems confronting the important economic research being carried out by the Marine Laboratory as part of the fisheries program for the Florida State Board of Conservation.

In this connection, Don de Sylva, research assistant of the Marine Laboratory's staff, returned recently from an extensive trip into the principal marketing areas of Florida fish. These are Atlanta, Knoxville, Columbia and other southern communities. His object has been to find out who buys Florida mullet, who formerly bought but has ceased, and who would buy if the fish were more generally advertised.

The importance of this pioneer fishery marketing work of the University of Miami has been recently recognized by the Federal government which, last week, announced the granting of a research contract to the Marine Laboratory to extend this work. This grant, $14,000, will enable the university to engage an experienced marketing specialist.

This specialist will seek out new markets for Florida fishes, ascertain what buyers want and then assist the fishing industry in meeting these requirements. It is expected that a substantial increase in sales will result from these efforts.

Florida Pushed As Honeymooners Spot

MIAMI (FNS) — A recent nation-wide survey conducted with the aid of newly married couples came up with the astounding fact that honeymooners are spending from $300 to $1,000 for trips lasting one to four weeks. And it seems that Florida is one of the most popular choices of those celebrating the entrance into wedded bliss.

Much interest is being created throughout the sunshine state in regard to the establishment of Florida as a more logical honeymoon area than Niagara Falls. Hotels, motels, attractions and chambers of commerce are entering the 1955 season with a definite pitch to the newlyweds in their advertising campaign.

Delta-C&S Airline, in conjunction with Guide for the Bride magazine, staged a very successful honeymoon package-type promotion campaign last year that brought hundreds of newly married couples into the Gold Coast area. Other programs of a similar nature will be staged throughout the coming winter season.

Garden Club Voice
To Sponsor Mile
Of Beauty Program

Mrs. Lonnie Warren and Mrs. Ivan Van Horn were out of town guest speakers at the South Bay Garden Club on Tuesday afternoon at the Legion Hall.

Mrs. Warren described a number of garden tours taken by the Belle Glade Garden Club members to various points in South Florida and pointed out the inspirational and educational values thus obtained in addition to the enjoyment of the days outing. She also told of nature study tours to the woods for plants and trees to be reared in their yard plantings.

Mrs. Van Horn discussed the national, state and local project known as "A Mile of Beauty" toward which Garden Clubs everywhere are working. The aim is to clean up and beautify the highways, particularly those leading into towns and cities. She spoke of doing away with small road signs erected by individuals, arranged for roadside beautification, and to work toward educating the public to avoid littering the highways. She had on display a "Don't Be a Litterbug" sign suitable to put up in recreational public parks or at wayside highway parking place.

Mrs. Van Horn emphasized that the program to be of value must be worked out in cooperation with the State Road Department, Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations.

Mrs. Laura Willis presided over the business session. It was decided to investigate our out of town garden tours with the idea of arranging such tours for the enjoyment of members.

It was also voted to start the "Mile of Beauty" program, each member making herself responsible for raising 5 young royal palms and 5 orchid trees. Members decided to investigate the possibility of beautifying the canal banks of the North New River Canal which runs through the residential section of South Bay.

Mrs. L. P. Roberts, program chairman, announced that the topic for discussion at the December 8th session will be "Christmas Closures" and that Mrs. William Masonic will bring necessary materials for demonstrating the method of making closures, each member to bring her own flowers.

There will be an exchange of gifts at the December meeting, value of the gift not to exceed $1.00. Each member will bring one gift.

Members were also requested to bring to this meeting articles to be made up in a Christmas box for the Lantana T.B. Sanatorium. Gifts suggested were tooth brush, tooth paste, wash cloth, cosmetic, old hose for use in handicraft work, small current magazines.

It was voted to change the regular meeting date beginning in January from the third Wednesday to the third Tuesday of each month at 8 o'clock.
